

Call for Submissions

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – January 27, 2025

2025 APPI Conference - FRESH FOCUS Ignite Your Creativity

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

DEADLINE: 4:00 PM Thursday March 6, 2025

The 2025 APPI Conference will explore the complexities of planning and how we continue to find innovative ways to solve modern problems that arise with changing policy, building codes, and market conditions. This conference will be held in person to allow delegates and attendees the opportunity to connect, network and learn from one another.

APPI invites professional planners, related professionals, and students to submit their proposals for creative, interactive, interdisciplinary, and unconventional discussions on how we can look at planning with a fresh focus and how we can use discussions across different disciplines to ignite your creativity in the work you do.

New to 2025, we also invite professional planners, related professionals, and students to submit an Interest to Speak to be included on a panel discussion assembled by the Conference Committee.

If you are considering submitting a proposal but would still like more information, we will you to join us on February 6th from 12:00 PM to 1:00 PM, for a virtual information session on responding to the 2025 Call for Proposals. This conversation will include lots of time for questions and answers. For more information and to register click here.

Thank you from the 2025 Conference Committee! We look forward to seeing you in Banff!

Christine Lee RPP, Conference Co-Chair
Stephen Yu RPP, Conference Co-Chair
